

HIGHLANDERS LOSE TWO AND BROWNS PASS THEM

Wolverton's Team Makes Two Runs in Eighteen Innings and Is Last.

DAVIS PITCHES GOOD BALL

Williams College Man Displays Winning Quality in His First Appearance.

Back into last place tumbled the Highlanders yesterday, the St. Louis Browns winning a double header over Hill, the Boston Red Sox easily disposing of the Detroit by a score of 7 to 2, the Washingtons whipping the Chicago White Sox by the same totals. The Philadelphia Athletics put the rollers under the Cleveland.

Yesterday's Results.
St. Louis, 5; New York, 1 (first game).
St. Louis, 5; New York, 1 (second game).
Boston, 7; Detroit, 2.
Washington, 7; Chicago, 2.
Philadelphia, 5; Cleveland, 2.

Standing of the Clubs.

Club	W	L	P	Pct
Boston	10	4	0	.714
Washington	5	6	0	.455
Philadelphia	6	11	0	.353
Chicago	3	6	0	.333
Cleveland	3	5	0	.375
Detroit	1	11	0	.091
St. Louis	1	5	0	.167
New York	1	6	0	.143
Games Lost	26	33	0

Today's Schedule.
Cleveland in New York.
Chicago in Boston.
St. Louis in Washington.
Detroit in Philadelphia.

From a St. Louis point of view, was great pitching by Baumgardner and Hamilton that accomplished the double defeat of the Highlanders at American League Park yesterday. Through New York glasses it was a general lack of team work at the bat that kept the Wolverton troupe from scoring more than two runs in eighteen innings. A tendency to hit the first ball pitched, together with a woful disregard for the pitcher's progress, made the efforts of the Hillmen to work around to the plate resemble methods prevailing in the bush leagues.

The Browns were the first game by a score of 5 to 1, and the second by a score of 3 to 1. They hit Warhop rather freely after the first three innings of the first battle and also supported Baumgardner's excellent pitching with safe hits. The encouraging feature of the second combat was the pitching of George Davis of Williams College. When his name was announced, fans generally anticipated that Davis was naturally a title pretender, for this was his first trial in big league company, but after the third inning, in which he pitched a gem, his runs, he settled down and pitched with superb judgment. Only three hits were secured from his delivery in the last six innings and only one man got as far as third base.

Davis is of medium size. He pitched without winking up a greater part of the game. He wasn't afraid to put the ball over the plate and he gained confidence he gradually displayed qualities that go to make up a star pitcher. Davis has a sweeping curve and a fast jump ball. The general opinion was that he is bound to improve with experience.

Warhop began the first game in brilliant style. He fanned five men in the first three innings, none going on the base without making a hit. During the same period Baumgardner blanked the Hillmen, although he gave two bases on balls in the first inning and Sweeney cracked out a single in the second.

Two runs were scored by the visitors in the fourth inning on hard hitting. Shotten, first up, singled and Jantzen sacrificed him to second. Kutina followed with a tremendous wallop into the center field seats for a home run. Shotten racing to the plate ahead of him, Pratt was out on a ground hit to Chase, but Jantzen, who had been singled, only to be hit when Compton made Warhop's sixth strikeout victim. Warhop wizzled out of a hole in the fifth inning. Kreichell began it with a two-bagger, but Baumgardner had bunted a fly to the pitcher Shotten walked. Jantzen, however, popped to Hartzell and on Kutina's grounder to the same player Kreichell was caught sliding into third.

A fair sample of the Hillmen's batting tactics was seen in the last half of this inning. Simmons opened with a hit, Hartzell, instead of sacrificing, fouled Simmons on a grounder to Laporte. Martin knocked out a clean hit to right, which should have scored Simmons, but as it was Martin was left, as the next two men fied out.

St. Louis secured two more runs in the sixth inning. Pratt tripled and ran home on Laporte's long sacrifice fly to Sterrett. Austin singled and scored, Compton's three bagger, but the latter remained anchored, as Stephens and Baumgardner went out on fly balls.

Again in the last half Davis started out with a hit, but Chase doubled, he forced Daniels and in turn was doubled up with Sterrett. Both boxmen were invincible in the seventh inning, but in the eighth Pratt doubled and counted on Compton's hot base hit.

The Highlanders escaped a shutout in the ninth inning. With one down Sterrett was hit, Zinn put third with a line single to center and Simmons lunged him home with a scratch. Pratt, Hartzell weakly fouled out and Wolverton, battling for Martin, fanned.

Eleven Highlanders were left on bases in the second game, which in part explains their downfall. Davis blanked the Browns in the first round, thanks to Sweeney, who threw out both Shotten and Kutina when they tried to score after hitting safely. Incidentally Jantzen carved the air. Chase doubled in New York's half with one out, but he was left.

Another blank was recorded for the Williams College man in the second inning, although he handed a pass to Austin. Simmons pitched a gem, but in the last half and Hartzell were very good, but Martin and Sweeney were very easy.

Martin retired Stephens with a fine one hand stop and throw in the third inning. Hamilton came along with a single to left and Shotten walked. Jantzen rapped a base hit to center and Sterrett made a long throw to center. Zinn then took a crooked bunt away from Sweeney, so that both Hamilton and Shotten counted. Jantzen meanwhile hustled to third and crossed the plate on Kutina's sacrifice fly to shortstop. Pratt also hit safely, only to be left.

In the fourth inning, with one out, Compton received a free kick and stole second. Martin dropping Sweeney's act, left three batters to center. Zinn then took the ball with terrific force against at Hamilton.

GIANTS LOSE CHICAGO, CUBS KICK THEM OUT

Stop of One Day Spells Loss of One More Game, and Again It's Lavender.

HOT WEATHER ALIBI GONE

Day Cool, but Result the Same—Doyle's Error Negates Tesreau's Work.

Nine games separate the Giants and the Cubs this morning. McGraw's champions received another trimming yesterday, this time at the hands of the Chicago, with whom they played a postponed game. Having lost seven out of the last nine games away from home, the Giants are beginning to worry New York fans not a little. They have another try in the Pittsburgh today. The tramping was a ten inning game for the Brooklyn yesterday and the Philadelphia blanked the Cincinnati.

Yesterday's Results.
Chicago, 5; New York, 1.
Pittsburgh, 5; Brooklyn, 4.
Philadelphia, 5; Cincinnati, 0.

Standing of the Clubs.

Club	W	L	P	Pct
New York	6	3	0	.667
Chicago	5	3	0	.625
Pittsburgh	5	3	0	.625
Philadelphia	5	3	0	.625
Brooklyn	4	4	0	.500
Cincinnati	2	5	0	.286
St. Louis	1	5	0	.167
Brooklyn	1	5	0	.167
Boston	1	5	0	.167
Games Lost	20	28	0

Today's Schedule.
New York in Pittsburgh.
Philadelphia in Chicago.
Brooklyn in St. Louis.
Boston in Cincinnati.

Chicago, July 16.—An error by Larry Doyle, the game being a loss to first base when there was plenty of time to retire the batter, played the mischief with the Giants' welfare today, and on their one day visit to the haunts of the Cubs the much humpered Knickerbocker troupe lost another game. The score was 5 to 1. But for Doyle's error the Cubs would have scored no runs in the inning in which they did score two and Tesreau's pitching was so good that one run was all the Cubs were entitled to make off it. But ball games are not confined to pitching and the New Yorks paid the penalty of flaws which appeared in other departments of their exhibition.

The Cubs are riding on the crest of the wave just now and have a notion that they are going to catch the Giants. With today's victory they have taken four of the last five games. McGraw's men, but as the Cardinals too did some slugging of the faltering New Yorks the success of the Cubs may be less of a spurt on their part than a building of momentum.

The Giants have seen so much of Lavender lately that they are beginning to think there is no other color in Chicago. That gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

Lavender's hit to Herzog, which took a pitch and the ball caromed from Meyer's glove, that gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

The team is taking its medicine philosophically, but at the same time cognizant that it is playing a good deal of poor baseball, and expects to get even in due time.

ALEXANDER SHUTS OUT REDS.
Stops Cincinnati at Every Turn and Returns Unscathed.
CINCINNATI, July 16.—Pitching a brilliant game Alexander shut out the locals today and allowed Philadelphia to make it four out of five. Alexander was never in danger of being driven from the mound, and he threatened to score. In the fourth they got two men on bases.

RED SOX HAMMER MORAN.
Tiger Recruit Suffers Also From Errors of Team Mates.
BOSTON, July 16.—Ray Collins carried the Red Sox through to the fourth win of the five game series with Detroit today, 7 to 1. The first hit was a home run by Collins. Moran, a left handed rookie, was easy to hit and was wretchedly supported. Boston bunched hits with Detroit's misplays in the second and seventh innings for three runs each time.

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

GIANTS LOSE CHICAGO, CUBS KICK THEM OUT

Stop of One Day Spells Loss of One More Game, and Again It's Lavender.

HOT WEATHER ALIBI GONE

Day Cool, but Result the Same—Doyle's Error Negates Tesreau's Work.

Nine games separate the Giants and the Cubs this morning. McGraw's champions received another trimming yesterday, this time at the hands of the Chicago, with whom they played a postponed game. Having lost seven out of the last nine games away from home, the Giants are beginning to worry New York fans not a little. They have another try in the Pittsburgh today. The tramping was a ten inning game for the Brooklyn yesterday and the Philadelphia blanked the Cincinnati.

Yesterday's Results.
Chicago, 5; New York, 1.
Pittsburgh, 5; Brooklyn, 4.
Philadelphia, 5; Cincinnati, 0.

Standing of the Clubs.

Club	W	L	P	Pct
New York	6	3	0	.667
Chicago	5	3	0	.625
Pittsburgh	5	3	0	.625
Philadelphia	5	3	0	.625
Brooklyn	4	4	0	.500
Cincinnati	2	5	0	.286
St. Louis	1	5	0	.167
Brooklyn	1	5	0	.167
Boston	1	5	0	.167
Games Lost	20	28	0

Today's Schedule.
New York in Pittsburgh.
Philadelphia in Chicago.
Brooklyn in St. Louis.
Boston in Cincinnati.

Chicago, July 16.—An error by Larry Doyle, the game being a loss to first base when there was plenty of time to retire the batter, played the mischief with the Giants' welfare today, and on their one day visit to the haunts of the Cubs the much humpered Knickerbocker troupe lost another game. The score was 5 to 1. But for Doyle's error the Cubs would have scored no runs in the inning in which they did score two and Tesreau's pitching was so good that one run was all the Cubs were entitled to make off it. But ball games are not confined to pitching and the New Yorks paid the penalty of flaws which appeared in other departments of their exhibition.

The Cubs are riding on the crest of the wave just now and have a notion that they are going to catch the Giants. With today's victory they have taken four of the last five games. McGraw's men, but as the Cardinals too did some slugging of the faltering New Yorks the success of the Cubs may be less of a spurt on their part than a building of momentum.

The Giants have seen so much of Lavender lately that they are beginning to think there is no other color in Chicago. That gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

Lavender's hit to Herzog, which took a pitch and the ball caromed from Meyer's glove, that gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

The team is taking its medicine philosophically, but at the same time cognizant that it is playing a good deal of poor baseball, and expects to get even in due time.

ALEXANDER SHUTS OUT REDS.
Stops Cincinnati at Every Turn and Returns Unscathed.
CINCINNATI, July 16.—Pitching a brilliant game Alexander shut out the locals today and allowed Philadelphia to make it four out of five. Alexander was never in danger of being driven from the mound, and he threatened to score. In the fourth they got two men on bases.

RED SOX HAMMER MORAN.
Tiger Recruit Suffers Also From Errors of Team Mates.
BOSTON, July 16.—Ray Collins carried the Red Sox through to the fourth win of the five game series with Detroit today, 7 to 1. The first hit was a home run by Collins. Moran, a left handed rookie, was easy to hit and was wretchedly supported. Boston bunched hits with Detroit's misplays in the second and seventh innings for three runs each time.

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

DODGERS' HITLESS RUNS EXTEND GAME TO TENTH

But They Refuse to Win and the Pirates Finally Do It Themselves.

DAHLEN WASTES CHANCE

Daly Held on Third in Ninth, When Cuthaw Uncorks Hot Single.

Pittsburgh, July 16.—In a weird game this afternoon between the Dodgers and Pirates that went ten innings, there was some of the most exciting baseball seen for a long time on Forbes Field. Pittsburgh had the game sewed up several times and Cole was pitching ball that looked like a winner, but the Brooklyn, who fight like wildcats every time they meet the Pirates, had something to say, and they might have won the game had it not been for more poor playing.

The world part of the game came when the Brooklyn crossed the plate twice on no hits and would have made it three runs but for some bad base running. It was in the seventh. Cole proceeded to show just how bad a good pitcher could get. He walked Smith, who fanned the ball to third, but Smith let the ball hit him on the arm. By the time the ball was captured two runs were across the plate and Cuthaw was cutting for home, but Carey, who had raced over back of third and got the ball, threw to Simon and the runner was out. Two runs, nay a hit. That tied the game, for Pittsburgh had scored a couple around the bases in the fourth.

In the last half of the eighth the locals got two more, but alone came that bunch of no hits and no runs. The Pirates have to meet twenty-two times each season, and they came right back with two runs. It looked like many more in the opening of the ninth. Northern, the first man, stepped out to left, but he was caught by the best Smith could do was to hit a little foul fly to McKenne. Daubert sent a healthy single to center, sending the Pirates to third and taking the lead in the play. Daly sent a single to right, Northern and Daubert racing home with the tying runs. Daly went to second on the play. Cuthaw got a single, but Daly was out. The Pirates would have reached home had not Dahlen been playing it safe. With one man out it looked good ball playing, but Cole pulled himself together and fanned Doyle and made O. Miller hit up a high fly to Carey.

Robinson was sent to the rubber for the Pirates in the tenth and the first man, Moran, singled, but was forced by Northern. Smith was out, but the following pair fled out. In the last half, after Robinson had asked to Moran, Menor tripled to right, McKenne fled to Cuthaw, but Carey won the game by a single to right.

THE SCORE:
PITTSBURGH..... 5
BROOKLYN..... 0
New York..... 0
Chicago..... 0
Pittsburgh..... 5
Brooklyn..... 4
Philadelphia..... 5
Cincinnati..... 0
St. Louis..... 1
Brooklyn..... 1
Boston..... 1
Games Lost..... 20

Today's Schedule.
New York in Pittsburgh.
Philadelphia in Chicago.
Brooklyn in St. Louis.
Boston in Cincinnati.

Chicago, July 16.—An error by Larry Doyle, the game being a loss to first base when there was plenty of time to retire the batter, played the mischief with the Giants' welfare today, and on their one day visit to the haunts of the Cubs the much humpered Knickerbocker troupe lost another game. The score was 5 to 1. But for Doyle's error the Cubs would have scored no runs in the inning in which they did score two and Tesreau's pitching was so good that one run was all the Cubs were entitled to make off it. But ball games are not confined to pitching and the New Yorks paid the penalty of flaws which appeared in other departments of their exhibition.

The Cubs are riding on the crest of the wave just now and have a notion that they are going to catch the Giants. With today's victory they have taken four of the last five games. McGraw's men, but as the Cardinals too did some slugging of the faltering New Yorks the success of the Cubs may be less of a spurt on their part than a building of momentum.

The Giants have seen so much of Lavender lately that they are beginning to think there is no other color in Chicago. That gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

Lavender's hit to Herzog, which took a pitch and the ball caromed from Meyer's glove, that gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

The team is taking its medicine philosophically, but at the same time cognizant that it is playing a good deal of poor baseball, and expects to get even in due time.

ALEXANDER SHUTS OUT REDS.
Stops Cincinnati at Every Turn and Returns Unscathed.
CINCINNATI, July 16.—Pitching a brilliant game Alexander shut out the locals today and allowed Philadelphia to make it four out of five. Alexander was never in danger of being driven from the mound, and he threatened to score. In the fourth they got two men on bases.

RED SOX HAMMER MORAN.
Tiger Recruit Suffers Also From Errors of Team Mates.
BOSTON, July 16.—Ray Collins carried the Red Sox through to the fourth win of the five game series with Detroit today, 7 to 1. The first hit was a home run by Collins. Moran, a left handed rookie, was easy to hit and was wretchedly supported. Boston bunched hits with Detroit's misplays in the second and seventh innings for three runs each time.

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

DODGERS' HITLESS RUNS EXTEND GAME TO TENTH

But They Refuse to Win and the Pirates Finally Do It Themselves.

DAHLEN WASTES CHANCE

Daly Held on Third in Ninth, When Cuthaw Uncorks Hot Single.

Pittsburgh, July 16.—In a weird game this afternoon between the Dodgers and Pirates that went ten innings, there was some of the most exciting baseball seen for a long time on Forbes Field. Pittsburgh had the game sewed up several times and Cole was pitching ball that looked like a winner, but the Brooklyn, who fight like wildcats every time they meet the Pirates, had something to say, and they might have won the game had it not been for more poor playing.

The world part of the game came when the Brooklyn crossed the plate twice on no hits and would have made it three runs but for some bad base running. It was in the seventh. Cole proceeded to show just how bad a good pitcher could get. He walked Smith, who fanned the ball to third, but Smith let the ball hit him on the arm. By the time the ball was captured two runs were across the plate and Cuthaw was cutting for home, but Carey, who had raced over back of third and got the ball, threw to Simon and the runner was out. Two runs, nay a hit. That tied the game, for Pittsburgh had scored a couple around the bases in the fourth.

In the last half of the eighth the locals got two more, but alone came that bunch of no hits and no runs. The Pirates have to meet twenty-two times each season, and they came right back with two runs. It looked like many more in the opening of the ninth. Northern, the first man, stepped out to left, but he was caught by the best Smith could do was to hit a little foul fly to McKenne. Daubert sent a healthy single to center, sending the Pirates to third and taking the lead in the play. Daly sent a single to right, Northern and Daubert racing home with the tying runs. Daly went to second on the play. Cuthaw got a single, but Daly was out. The Pirates would have reached home had not Dahlen been playing it safe. With one man out it looked good ball playing, but Cole pulled himself together and fanned Doyle and made O. Miller hit up a high fly to Carey.

Robinson was sent to the rubber for the Pirates in the tenth and the first man, Moran, singled, but was forced by Northern. Smith was out, but the following pair fled out. In the last half, after Robinson had asked to Moran, Menor tripled to right, McKenne fled to Cuthaw, but Carey won the game by a single to right.

THE SCORE:
PITTSBURGH..... 5
BROOKLYN..... 0
New York..... 0
Chicago..... 0
Pittsburgh..... 5
Brooklyn..... 4
Philadelphia..... 5
Cincinnati..... 0
St. Louis..... 1
Brooklyn..... 1
Boston..... 1
Games Lost..... 20

Today's Schedule.
New York in Pittsburgh.
Philadelphia in Chicago.
Brooklyn in St. Louis.
Boston in Cincinnati.

Chicago, July 16.—An error by Larry Doyle, the game being a loss to first base when there was plenty of time to retire the batter, played the mischief with the Giants' welfare today, and on their one day visit to the haunts of the Cubs the much humpered Knickerbocker troupe lost another game. The score was 5 to 1. But for Doyle's error the Cubs would have scored no runs in the inning in which they did score two and Tesreau's pitching was so good that one run was all the Cubs were entitled to make off it. But ball games are not confined to pitching and the New Yorks paid the penalty of flaws which appeared in other departments of their exhibition.

The Cubs are riding on the crest of the wave just now and have a notion that they are going to catch the Giants. With today's victory they have taken four of the last five games. McGraw's men, but as the Cardinals too did some slugging of the faltering New Yorks the success of the Cubs may be less of a spurt on their part than a building of momentum.

The Giants have seen so much of Lavender lately that they are beginning to think there is no other color in Chicago. That gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

Lavender's hit to Herzog, which took a pitch and the ball caromed from Meyer's glove, that gent is an all around trouble maker. He wedged in a telling single in the first inning, struck out McGraw, and then again today and on four separate and distinct occasions the Giants had two on bases with only one out and were unable to hit the ball. The Cubs' batting was not strong at any time and weakest when it would have done a lot of good.

The team is taking its medicine philosophically, but at the same time cognizant that it is playing a good deal of poor baseball, and expects to get even in due time.

ALEXANDER SHUTS OUT REDS.
Stops Cincinnati at Every Turn and Returns Unscathed.
CINCINNATI, July 16.—Pitching a brilliant game Alexander shut out the locals today and allowed Philadelphia to make it four out of five. Alexander was never in danger of being driven from the mound, and he threatened to score. In the fourth they got two men on bases.

RED SOX HAMMER MORAN.
Tiger Recruit Suffers Also From Errors of Team Mates.
BOSTON, July 16.—Ray Collins carried the Red Sox through to the fourth win of the five game series with Detroit today, 7 to 1. The first hit was a home run by Collins. Moran, a left handed rookie, was easy to hit and was wretchedly supported. Boston bunched hits with Detroit's misplays in the second and seventh innings for three runs each time.

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

INDIANS HAVE A SINECURE.
Birds Hand Run to Them by Errors While Bell Does the Rest.
BALTIMORE, July 16.—The Birds had an off day in the field today and by their numerous misuses practically presented the game to the Indians. Every one of the locals' errors figured in the Newark run column. Bell proved a stinging bludge and had the locals guessing from start to finish. The score:

McDERMOTT TIES NICHOLS.

Open Champion Makes Up Five Strokes in Afternoon Round.

NORFOLK, Pa., July 16.—There were but twenty-eight entries in the tenth annual invitation golf tournament of the Golf Association of Philadelphia held today at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club. Some decidedly interesting golf was displayed by J. J. McDermott, holder of the title and the national open champion.

In the morning round McDermott was five strokes behind G. Nichols of Wilmington